Axarquía, Salares

This spacious and authentic village house has a surprising layout and offers many possibilities. The house is in a quiet location in the white village of Salares, located in the Axarquía region (Málaga province). Before you enter the house, you first pass a kind of patio. With some care and love, this area can easily be transformed into a spacious terrace where you can enjoy the morning sun. There is also a storage room with water tap and washing machine.

Upon entering, you first enter a welcoming area for guests, next to which is the living/dining room with fireplace. Through this centrally located room you go to the 1st floor where there is a very spacious bedroom. At the bottom of the stairs is a storage room which can be converted into an extra bedroom. Behind the other door in the living/dining room, via 3 steps you enter the 2nd large bedroom with a separate sitting area and a Juliet balcony overlooking the beautiful surroundings. The spacious bathroom is also located on this floor.

Through the living/dining room there is a door leading to a large (storage) area under the house. This area is also accessible from the outside and could ideally be used to extend the house.

Back in the welcoming area, there is a separate staircase leading to the kitchen with Juliet balcony. On the top floor is access to the spacious roof terrace with great views over the village and mountains.

The 2 houses next door are also for sale which could offer additional opportunities in this beautiful part of the typical Andalusian white village. Our renovation team is at your service!
