Axarquía, Sedella

Right in the center, in the proximity of the church of Sedella, Axarquia, Malaga, you will find this interesting village house and its enormous potential.

20 Meters away from the parking lot, you walk through a neatly finished alley into this still to be renovated and rearranged house.

The main entrance of this property takes you straight into a living room with fireplace and typical Spanish decorative features.

A passage on the left takes you into a room with a staircase that leads to a beautiful bedroom.

To the right, from the living room, you step into an elongated kitchen that opens onto the dining room.

This in turn leads to a short hall with an exit on the left to a courtyard with a small storage room and stairs that take you to a huge roof terrace with a breathtaking view over the village and the surrounding mountains.

To the right into the hallway you find the bathroom and a large room (ideal as a second bedroom) with a private exit to a back alley.
