Axarquía, Canillas de Aceituno

After a short and comfortable drive - over mostly paved road - from the magical white village of Canillas de Aceituno, Axarquía in the province of Malaga, you arrive at this idyllic and very attractive place, surrounded by breathtaking views.

This small finca has 2 entrances. Behind the 1st entrance there are 2 rooms. Through the 2nd entrance you enter the living/kitchen area. Over the entire length of the finca there is a long covered terrace.

A kitchen, a bedroom and a yet to be installed bathroom is all a couple of romantic adventurers need to find their happiness in this sun-drenched Andalusia.

The finca comes with a beautiful 10,454m² estate full of Mediterranean trees.

It is a place with a fine energy that longs for the well-deserved attention of people who appreciate the beauty of nature, silence and simplicity.
